

Some suggested online Resources to learn about your upcoming joint replacement.

Orthoanswer.org

Orthoanswer, an Australian website created by an Australian orthopaedic surgeon for Australian patients, provides information on various orthopaedic conditions and procedures.

Note: this information is not a substitute for professional medical advice.

<http://www.stryker.com.au>

password: mobility

These are generic resources prepared by the company who makes the prosthesis.

*Not all of this information will be relevant to you.

orthoinfo.aaos.org

The on-line Patient Education Library of the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons provides information on a variety of conditions and procedures.

Note: this information is not a substitute for professional medical advice.